2010 CCHD National and Local Grants

National Grants- $250,000

$50,000: UNITED WORKERS ASSOCIATION, Baltimore

This sixth year grant will enable UWA to continue its unique role in bringing hope, self respect to workers in public facilities and institutions, advocating living wages, safe working conditions and a share in decisions affecting their welfare.

$50,000: PATH: PEOPLE ACTING TOGETHER IN HOWARD. Howard County, MD

This fourth year, community organizing grant will foster the progress made by churches and civic organizations in promoting and advocating for inclusive, fair housing for needy families. Legislators have responded positively in this critical work.

$45,000: YOUTH AS RESOURCES, Baltimore

This third year national grant will continue the work of training students and young adults in the social justice principles. Imaging CCHD, they, in turn, enable groups of young people to organize and improve their neighborhoods.

$40,000: OUT FOR JUSTICE, Baltimore

This third year organizing grant will foster the unique mission to address and empower largely unrepresented persons both inside and outside the prison system, with special; attention on reentry into society.

$30,000 CITY WIDE ADVOCACY PROJECT, Baltimore

This first-time national grant affirms the work of parents struggling and working with Baltimore City school system to provide education for children with special needs. CCHD notes the needs for continuing leadership training and organizing skills to realize this goal more effectively.

$25,000 ARUNDEL HOUSE OF HOPE, Anne Arundel County

This Economic Development grant will support the training and employment of workers, who will eventually own this small food service business.

$10,000: IMMIGRATION OUTREACH SERVICE CENTER, Baltimore

This grant will support development of training leaders for ongoing community organizing. In the past the Center's work has enabled many persons to find safe housing, jobs and educational opportunities.

Local Grants - $15,000

$15,000: PROYECTO ESPERANZA, Baltimore

Having received both local and national CCHD grants in the past, Proyecto Esperanza has been reorganized to continue its mission to empower Latinos struggling to overcome the considerable poverty and injustice which follows them from their native lands to their adopted home.
